230 S. Dearborn Street
3754, 37-14
Chicago IL 60604
312-886-6923

Who are we? The U.S. General Services Administration (GSA), Public Buildings Service (PBS) is a cutting-edge organization that is a leader in an ever-changing field – commercial real estate. In fact, PBS is the world's largest commercial real estate organization with over $500 billion in assets. PBS continues to set the pace for sustainable design, inherent "Green" philosophy with its environmental impact and recycling programs, and a portfolio of buildings located throughout the U.S. that includes internationally award-winning designs and the proud heritage of saving historic landmarks. PBS builds, acquires, and leases real estate for other federal agencies. These facilities house over one million federal workers as part of an inventory of more than 8,000 owned and 2,000 leased buildings with more than 330 million square feet of workspace. PBS customers are other federal agencies such as the Judiciary, Homeland Security, Social Security Administration, IRS, FBI, and EPA. PBS is the largest commercial real estate organization and property management company in the world. PBS continuously wins national and international design awards for new and refurbished buildings. Who does PBS hire and where do they work? PBS seeks hard-working and energetic people who have or are working towards degrees in most disciplines, specifically business, management, finance, accounting, project management, facilities management, architecture, real estate, and construction engineering/management. Positions are located in downtown Chicago and throughout the Great Lakes Region – Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

Those students who will achieve a degree in architecture, real estate, finance, business, or construction engineering/management. Most of our positions are located in downtown Chicago but we also may have openings throughout the Great Lakes Region – Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

ka is a national, award-winning design firm that provides architecture, planning, landscape architecture, environmental graphics, and interior design services to commercial developers and corporate clients. At ka, we focus not just on the bricks and mortar of a project, but on the intangible aspects of a project that help create a sense of community.

Our commitment to “The Architecture of Life” is not just a marketing tagline—it is about our promise to put people at the center of everything we do. It’s about showing you how we look at design—not only through your eyes—but also through the eyes of the people who experience life in and through your buildings. It’s about creating a vision that goes beyond your goals and needs to culminate in a project that has greater appeal, and that results in higher occupancy rates, better tenants, more traffic, and ultimately, greater revenue and a more successful project for you.

Our experience spans four decades and has led to the completion of projects in 42 states and Puerto Rico. These include more than a dozen open-air shopping centers, 60 regional malls, 200 department stores, and five million square feet of office space.

ThenDesign Architecture (TDA)

www.thendesign.com

4135 Erie Street
Willoughby OH 44094
440-269-2266

Many ask about the meaning behind our name. “Thencan” is the Old English word for “think.” We distilled this word and merged it with the conventional meaning of architecture, which is “the art of design.” Our name, ThenDesign, has become the core of our business philosophy. You see, our services go beyond what some consider the traditional role of the architect. We believe successful design is fostered by the art of thinking — thinking about the real needs of our clients and developing aesthetically appropriate and workable design solutions to meet those needs. As a member of our team, you are rewarded with a stimulating and energetic environment in our newly remodeled office, engaging tasks, flexibility, and competitive compensation. At TDA, we are a company without titles and hierarchy, emphasizing team objectives that contribute to our overall success. With offices in Cleveland and Chicago, TDA has more than 55 years of proven experience in planning, architecture and interior design. In addition to the design of commercial and retail spaces, TDA is recognized for its innovative educational facility designs. The firm also offers services to the sports/recreation, municipal, institutional, and hospitality markets. good people. smart solutions.

TDA is growing, and with growth comes opportunity! We are looking for innovative, forward-thinking individuals. If you are passionate about design, focused on client objectives, striving to become a leader in the profession, and looking to have lots of fun along the way; we are interested in learning more about you!
