

GEs offered by the Knowlton School

ARCH 2220 - Sustainability and the Built Environment

Introduction to sustainability and the built environment, emphasis on cultural context, including contributing geographic, political, social, and economic factors which influence the form of the constructed world.

GE Social Science: Human, Natural and Econ Resources

Prereq: Not open to students with credit for 201 or 3rd and 4th year Arch majors. GE social science human, nature, and econ resources course.

3 credit hours

ARCH 2300 - Outlines of the Built Environment

Introduction to architecture, landscape architecture, and planning as cultural practices that shape the physical environment.

GE Cultures and Ideas

Prereq: Not open to students with credit for 200, 1210, 2300E, LArch 1210 (200), 2300, or 2300E. GE cultures and ideas course. Cross-listed in LArch.

3 credit hours

LARCH 2367 - Making and Meaning of the American Landscape

Overview and interpretation of influential figures, policies, programs, cultural forces, and environmental factors that have shaped the American landscape since the Revolutionary War.

Prereq: English 1110 (111) or 110, or equiv. Not open to students with credit for 367 or NatRes 367.

GE writing and comm: level 2 and cultures and ideas course

3 credit hours

LARCH 2600 - Outlines of Landscape Architecture: Visual Literacy in the Built Environment

Overview of patterns and processes of human design on land in relation to environmental, economic, and socio-cultural forces, with an emphasis on interpretation of visual landscape change.

Prereq: Not open to students with credit for 201. GE VPA course.

GE Visual and Performing Arts, Embedded Honors

3 credit hours

CRPLAN 3500 - The Socially Just City

Too many cities are split between the haves and the have-nots. Explore how to reduce poverty, increase access to public services, and create a high quality of life for all residents.

GE social science orgs and politics and diversity social diversity in the US course.

3 credit hours

LARCH 3597 - Sustainability & You

Perspectives on social, environmental, and economic sustainability as it relates to landscape within a global context; problem-solving strategies within an interdisciplinary team environment.

Prereq: Jr or Sr standing. Not open to students with credit for 597.

GE cross-disciplinary seminar course

3 credit hours

CRPLAN 4597 - The Global Environment in Planning

A review of challenges in developed and developing countries, examining planning issues associated with economic development, social equity, growth and rural development.

Prereq: Not open to students with credit for 597.

GE cross-disciplinary seminar course.

3 credit hours